

EXECUTIVES

Jordan Kivelstadt, CEO & Founder

Jordan founded Free Flow Wines with Dan Donahoe in 2009 and has been leading the growth of the business since the beginning. Jordan was trained as an engineer at Tufts University before moving on to management consulting for over two years. In 2006, Jordan began his career in the wine industry as production manager for The Donum Estate. Since then he has made wine in four countries, founded his own bottle brand, Kivelstadt Cellars, manages his family's organic 10-acre Sonoma County, California vineyard and continues to innovate in the industry he loves.

Dan Donahoe, Co-Founder

As the chief growth officer of Free Flow Wines, Dan has been at the forefront of the premium wine on tap movement since its inception. Dan began his career at Cakebread Cellars during the crush of 1992 and is well versed in the production, wholesale, retail, and marketing aspects of the wine industry. Close family friend Julia Child instilled a love of food and wine at an early age, in both Boston and California, introducing Dan to many legendary figures along the way. Dan founded his family winery, TEIRA Wines, in 2002 and built it into a nationally trusted wine brand. He continues to manage 100 acres of his family-owned vineyards in the Dry Creek Valley of Sonoma County.
